

The Herald
11 December 2009
(19)

DON'T MISS ...

Edwyn Collins and the 1990s,
The Low Miffs, ABC,
Glasgow, tonight, 7.30pm

It is a sign of just how far the former frontman of Orange Juice has come since his life-threatening illness that he is happy to go out on the road with a band with whom he had no former connection. The 1990s are great fun, the pop offspring of the Yummy Fur and V-Twin, and their gene-pool is clearly shared with Collins. Something similar is also audible in the Low Miffs, especially when they combine with another Orange Juice veteran, Malcolm Ross.

Smile
on my mac